President's Message

Hello Fellow Members;

This summer is screaming by. Probably like many of you, I am trying to get all of those inside "honey-do" jobs done before fall. In the meantime, I have been thinking a lot about what we do in the club and for the community. I want to be sure everyone even knows some of the major changes we are doing to make the club even better. So I thought I would give a bit of a recap.

The name of the club has changed. It is now: Las Vegas Cadillac Club . You can now get to our award-winning website by googling Las Vegas Cadillac Club or typing almost any iteration of our websites including:

- LasVegasCLC.com
- TheCadillacClub.com
- LasVegasCadillac-Club.com

The newsletter now has an official name: The Cadillac Connection. Hopefully you will like the expanded format and information.

Do not forget to register for our 2nd annual all Cadillac fall show It is free so invite your friends. We do need you to register so check the newsletter or the website to register on line. Watch for the website for CTS like Cadillac Through The Years, our spring show.

We have three Toys 4 Smiles wood 1953 Cadillacs, signed and numbered by our own Larry Rafferty, the designer, that are for sale. Every penny goes back into our treasury. We would like to get as much as we can to support the club efforts. If you are interested, please let me know: 714-765-9930 or look at the expanded website.

Well, there is more to come BUT it will save for next time. Be safe out there!

The Mary Kay Cadillac

Driving here in Las Vegas, the Mary Kay Cadillac to the right was spotted. So a little history. The pink Cadillac is the most coveted incentive awarded by Mary Kay. The modern day Cadillac comes in pearlized pink – a color unique to the Mary Kay Career Car program. It was a hot Texas summer in 1969, when the pink Cadillac was born weighing 4,650 pounds, measuring 225 inches with a roaring engine and 375 horsepower. More than 19,000 pink Cadillacs have been in the hands of Mary Kay Independent Beauty Consultants.

The Glorious Age of Car Design Documentary

Watch at <https://www.hemmings.com/blog/2014/09/01/the-story-of-styling-postwar-american-car-designers-are-celebrated-in-the-new-film-american-dreaming/>

American car design reached its experimental, optimistic zenith in the post-WWII era. Yet for every car built, hundreds of sketches and concepts were destroyed, the designers who penned them working in corporate anonymity.

Concept sketches offered a look inside what was going on at Ford, GM, and Chrysler during the golden age of American car design, 1948 to 1973. The sketches unearthed by American Dreaming's documentarians represent only a minuscule fraction of what design departments created in that era: Aside from famous head stylists like Harley Earl and Bill Mitchell, most designers worked as anonymous members of a brand's styling house, their unused sketches destroyed to prevent copycatting by the competition.

As Elia "Russ" Russinoff, who designed for GM for forty years, explains in the trailer, a number of designers couldn't stomach seeing their unrealized concepts fed to the shredder — so they spirited out their best work, hidden under false floors in shipping crates. Those secretly smuggled sketches and the brilliant minds that created them are gradually being lost to time. That's a shame, because the concepts the American auto industry cranked out in the post-war era still inform modern design today. American Dreaming hopes to preserve that unseen legacy. It's a dream project, whether you're a car enthusiast, a design nerd, or simply someone fascinated by the past visions of our transportation future.

Happy 116th Birthday Cadillac!

A new company called the Cadillac Automobile Company was established on 22 August 1902, repurposing the Henry Ford Company factory at Cass Street and Amsterdam Avenue. It was named after French explorer Antoine Laumet de La Mothe, sieur de Cadillac, who had also founded Detroit in 1701.

The Cadillac Motor Company was formed in 1905. From its earliest years, Cadillac aimed for precision engineering and stylish luxury finishes, causing its cars to be ranked amongst the finest in the United States. Cadillac participated in the 1908 interchangeability test in the United Kingdom, and was awarded the Dewar Trophy for the most important advancement of the year in the automobile industry. In 1912, Cadillac was the first automobile manufacturer to develop the self starter and electric lights.

Cadillac was purchased by the General Motors (GM) conglomerate in 1909. Cadillac became General Motors' prestige division, devoted to the production of large luxury vehicles. The Cadillac line was also GM's default marque for "commercial chassis" institutional vehicles, such as limousines, ambulances, hearses and funeral home flower cars, the last three of which were custom-built by aftermarket manufacturers.

In 1915, Cadillac introduced a 90-degree flathead V8 engine with 70 horsepower 2400 rpm and 180 pound force-feet of torque, allowing its cars to attain 65 miles per hour. This was faster than most roads could accommodate at this time. Cadillac pioneered the dual-plane V8 crankshaft in 1918. In 1928 Cadillac introduced the first Synchro-Mesh manual transmission, utilizing constant mesh gears. In 1930 Cadillac implemented the first V-16 engine, with a 45-degree overhead valve, 452 cubic inches, and 165 horsepower, one of the most powerful and quietest engines in the United States. The development and introduction of the V8, V16 and V-12 helped to make Cadillac the "Standard of the World". A later model of the V8 engine, with overhead valves, set the standard for the entire American automotive industry in 1949.

Jerry's 1941 Cadillac
Summer Project DONE!
Stay tuned for the next challenge!

My work continues on my 41 Cadillac. The windshields have been installed, the wipers work, the dash has been reinstalled with a new glove box. It took several days to paint, color sand and polish the dash. My car now runs on a 12-volt system instead of the original 6-volt system. All the lights are much brighter so it should be much safer to drive after dark.

The work continues. I have sent the radio out to Richard Blankenship (randbvintageautoradio.com) to have a Bluetooth installed and the radio converted to 12- volts. My next challenge is the dash gauges. The gauges have never been dependable, since I have owned it.

My wife Linda and I would also like to thank everyone who has helped and supported me on this project. John Adams has put in count less hours of help and keeping me centered and on course. The help from Lyle Knox, John Jipson and Colin Christie also made it all come together.

I would especially like thank Ed Cholakian (allcads.com). The complete list of new and used parts I have received from Ed, the owner of All Cadillacs since 2005, is to long to list. On this job alone I was able to get the glass, wiper motor, wiper transmissions, horn relay, rubber parts, glove box, defroster vent, trunk light and a electric fuel pump. Oh yes, and a new firewall pad with insulation. I would not have been able to complete this job with out him.

Thanks again to all of you very much for your help.

The Beast

Probably one of the best known Cadillacs around: the presidential limo is known as Cadillac 1, Limo 1 or "The Beast". After the Kennedy assassination, many changes were made in how the president travels.

A lot is not known about "The Beast" but here are a few specs:

Weight:	20,000 pounds
0-60 MPH:	15 seconds
Maximum Speed:	60 MPH
MPG:	8 (Sound familiar?)
Passengers:	7
Armor plating:	8 inches thick
Glass:	5 inches, bulletproof
Tires:	Kevlar; bus size
Fuel:	Diesel

But did you know it isn't actually a Cadillac.

The Beast shares little in common with a standard production car. Its chassis, diesel engine and transmission are based on those used in the Chevrolet Kodiak, a rugged commercial vehicle previously sold as everything from a dump truck to a U-Haul. Some standard trim pieces, like headlamps from an Escalade and tail lights from the now-discontinued STS, keep it looking vaguely Cadillac-like. In addition, the President sometimes travels in a heavily-armored Chevrolet Suburban or a modified Prevost bus known as Ground Force One rather than The Beast.

From 1945-1974, children growing up in Los Angeles had their own mini-fair. Beverly Park operated on less than an acre, on the corner of Beverly Blvd. and La Cienega, the present home of the Beverly Center Mall. There were usually about twelve kid-sized rides, as well as animals, hot dogs and cotton candy.

Southern California Driving Tour

You missed a great time if you missed the driving tour. The highlights were The Nethercutt and The Peterson Museums in LA. The group then spent the day in Santa Barbara. We then headed from Ventura area to Solvang and met some of the Mendenhall family and special automobile memorabilia and motorcycle museums. The next was the magnificent Hearst Castle. On the last day we saw magnificent prewar Cadillacs and a variety of cars up in private residences in wine country of Paso Robles.

We rounded out the tour with a trip to see cars and airplanes and a goodbye dinner at the famous Madonna Inn (Ask Gary about the men's bathroom).

This 1956 Cadillac from Georgia won long distance and oldest car to complete the tour. The hard luck award was a beautiful 1976 Fleetwood that blew a head gasket on arrival. A special thank you to So. Cal and all the people that made arrangements. Carolyn and Gary Weaver Enjoy the pictures below. There are more pictures on Facebook and the club website! See you in Valley Forge PA next October! What a beautiful time of year to go.
