January, 2023

Vol. 23 No. 1

The RRRCLC wishes all our members and their families a Happy New Year, 2023! Fortunately, in 2022, we were able to enjoy a return to normalcy, with the resumption of our regularly-scheduled car shows. It was great to see each other again, and have the opportunity to display our treasured automobiles. The one damp spot in our plans was the rainout of our Gold Coast Show, but we look forward to holding it this Spring on April 23rd. So let's welcome in the new year with a feeling of optimism that we will once again enjoy family, friends, and car cruises and shows to their fullest!

Editor's Note - There were no monthly meetings held in November and December.

Small Wonder!

Miniature, fully functional, 1/3rd scale replicas of a Cadillac were made for the British Royal family of Siam, Norway, and one for a grandson of the founder of Cadillac. The one built for the royal family of Siam is to the left, and the other for Norway, below. Interestingly, Prince Chula was the great-grandson of the much romanticized King Rama IV (1851-1868) of 'The King and I' fame.

The Backstory:

One of the finest and earliest miniature cars, a one-third size Cadillac built in England before the First World War, built in 1912 by Lockwood and Co of Islington, north London, the car was exhibited at the 1913 Paris motor show.

Though weighing nearly 400lb, the Baby Cadillac was capable of about 15 miles on one charge at speeds of up to 12mph. Driven along Pall Mall that year as a publicity stunt, the little car attracted royal attention and was bought for £62 by Queen Alexandra, wife of Edward VII, who gave it as a gift to her grandson, Prince Olaf of Norway. Though still owned by the Norwegian royal family, it is on permanent loan to the Norsk Teknisk Museum in Oslo

While the Norwegian miniature is known in informed circles, two other examples were built, one of 1916 vintage going to the Siamese royal family as a present from Cadillac. It was certainly driven around the royal palace grounds by the young Prince Chula, who became well known on European racing circuits in the 1930s, and is believed still to be owned by his descendants.

The third Baby Cadillac went as a fifth birthday present to Wilfred Leland, one of the Cadillac founder's family - possibly as close to royalty as the US gets.

THE CADILLAC CREST...

Ever wonder where the symbol for Cadillac originated, or about the background of it? What follows is a brief history of it.

The Cadillac crest...The name Cadillac was chosen in honor of Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac, French explorer who founded the City of Detroit in 1701; this coat of arms adopted for our organization symbolizes pioneering and leadership in the motor car field.

It is particularly fitting that the expert workmanship inspired by the slogan "Craftsmanship a Creed and Accuracy a Law" should be honored by so noble a trademark.

Both the crest and the slogan stand as our constant reminder that leadership in any field is won and held only through deeds well done.

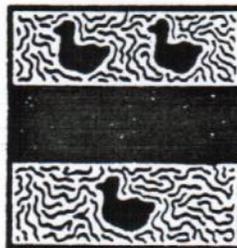

The Couronne or Coronet-The coat-of-arms is divided into two parts-the crown and shield. The Couronne or Coronet ensigning the arms of Cadillac is that borne by the six ancient courts of France, and is emblematic of descent from the old counts of Toulouse, who were affiliated with the royal French stock. The Seven pearls in the couronne indicate the nobleman's descent from these royal counts.

The Shield-The shield is significant of the heroic origin of the Cadillac arms. This is the form in which the coat of arms of the Cadillac family was first displayed by some ancient Holy Crusader.

The shield is comprised of four (4) quarters and are identified as follows.

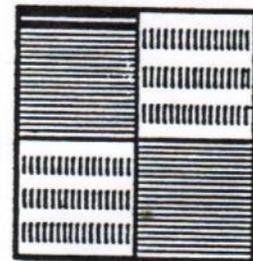

The first and fourth quarterings-These quarterings are strictly the arms of the Mothe family-"Gold, a fess, a sable between three merlettes of the same, posed two in chief and one in base."

The birds, "merlettes," legless and without beaks, are a heraldic adaptation of the martin. Appearing in threes they have a holy significance being considered sacred to the Trinity. They were granted to Knights by the ancient School of Heralds, together with the "fess" for valiant conduct in the Crusades. The birds shown in black against a gold background in this section of the Cadillac arms denote wisdom, riches, and cleverness of mind, ideal qualities for the adventurous and zealous Christian Knight.

Of the merlette, Guillaume, an ancient historian, says: "This bird is given for a difference, to younger brothers to put them in mind that in order to raise themselves they are to look to the wings of virtue and merit, and not to the legs, having but little land to set their feet on." Of the fess, he says: "This is a military girdle of honor," and signifies that the bearer "must always be in readiness to undergo the business of the public weal."

The second and third quarterings-These were probably adopted in the Mothe coat of arms when, by some fortunate intermarriage in time long ago, another "Seigneurie" was added to their possessions. In these quarters the colors used denote that the marriage added to the fame of the family de la Mothe something besides broad acres-"marked by the prowess and boldness in action" for the red; "purity, charity, virtue and plenty" for the silver. The repetition of the cross bar or "fess" indicates more knightly prowess in the far fields of the Crusades.

SOUTH FLORIDA REPORT

By Jay Raskin

On November 13, the South Florida Region of the CLC held their 3rd annual Bayview Cadillac Dealer Show in Ft. Lauderdale. Held under warm sunny skies, the event was a big success, with 51 registered Cadillacs. It was a special day with beautiful cars, great people, great food, great music and raffle prizes. Many thanks to SFR President, Len Constance, along with Aldo Steppes, and club VP Jerry Feldman for spearheading this show!

From Boardwalk Empire

Story: Jay Raskin

This past November 15th, Bob Marino and I accompanied Joe Puleo on a visit to the Lake Worth, FL home of Richard Hughes, who had spoken with Joe about his desire to sell his 1921 Rolls-Royce Silver Ghost. This, however, wasn't just any Rolls; this beauty was the featured car owned by "Nucky Thompson" (Steve Buscemi) in the HBO series, Boardwalk Empire.

We not only saw the Rolls, but were 'chauffered' around Lake Worth by Richard! This was some treat for Bob and me in the spacious backseat, and Joe, riding 'shotgun.' You can imagine the looks we received during our pleasant cruise. Joe ultimately passed on the deal, since this was, after all, not a Cadillac, but we had a great experience!

RICH GENTLEMAN HAS JOINED THE CADILLAC FAMILY!

Here's a Message From Club Member, Bill Wolf:

Gentlemen: I am relatively new to the club, and before I could become even a bit active, the pandemic hit.

Now, I hope to meet you all and enjoy your cars. Please consider: I am also a Rolls-Royce enthusiast, and for over a dozen years, have contributed to their magazine. More than once, car owners cooperated so I could photograph classic cars in front of NYC landmarks. I have already started writing and photographing for the Self-Starter. Any chance one of you would like to take me in your classic to NYC for a Self-Starter article? I hope to get to make your acquaintance.
